Can I block radio signals?

2019/07/10

Hello Nelly! I guess if you are asking this question you want to solve the problem with the home radio without any kind of arguments or fighting with the owner. Radio signals have wide range of frequencies to use but most of them are using common frequency bands in order to operate because of radio frequency legal issues and, of course, technical part. So to successfully deal with all kinds of two-band radios and home-made radio sets you need to use radio signal jammer which blocks probably all known frequencies in radio spectrum of UHF and VHF frequencies. It will definitely help you to prevent any home radio from transmitting its signal in your area in the nearest future.
