Can I protect my BlackBerry from being eavesdropped in India?

2019/07/17

Hello J.J.! Indian government is really persistent about establishing surveillance all over the country. They want not only to track all cell phone locations but also to eavesdrop all cell phones and messages. That is where they have started to have real issues with RIM because RIM refused to give access to their BlackBerry's BBM messages. Yet soon it might change as well. The Indian government have stated that this issue is heading towards its logical resolution, so I suppose that RIM gave up and let Indian government to establish surveillance on their BBM messages as well. Authorities have also stated that law enforcement agencies will get what they want at last, so I guess there should be no doubts about that. Considering the whole situation, you need to protect your BlackBerry from being eavesdropped. To do that you can use BlackBerry eavesdropping jammer that will help you maintain the privacy of your BBM messages and conversations.
