Can I block the signals of the car remotes?

2019/12/03

Hi Greg! As you already know there are huge variety of different electronic devices and their signals could be jammed by the appropriate types of signal jammers. I guess you are already familiar with many various kinds of those devices and their respective signal jammers and want to get some information on the wireless car key jammers, right? You've got it! ;) Remote control jammers are using few different frequency ranges in their working process. This helps them to cover all types of remote controls used nowadays. It is also worth mentioning that to block car remote's signal you can use new model of wireless car key jammer that combines three most used remote control frequencies jammed by one device. Thus select the remote control jammer you need (or like the most) and go find some remote control to jam!
