Can I avoid SilverCloud Sync GPS Tracking?

2019/12/04

Hello Chen! SilverCloud Sync is the brand new real-time GPS tracking device developed by LandAirSea Systems. The main feature of this tracking device is that it is not only capable of tracking your location in real time but also connected to the vehicle's OBD-II port that has every single vehicle manufactured after 1996. This port has a purpose of helping technicians to determine the malfunctions of the vehicle in the quick and easy way. All information that will be collected by LandAirSea Systems SilverCloud Sync through OBD port will be available not only to the car owner but also to the business owners (aka the director of the company you work for), fleet managers (aka your immediate superior) and law enforcements. Among those data there are: Vehicle's VIN number Fuel and low battery warnings Real-time speed and RPM usage Idling and harsh braking warnings Odometer readings High speed and rapid acceleration warnings Your superiors can also place event-based and time-based alarms, monitor the number of your stops, and all that they can do using web-browser based software that in addition allows them to share received information via corporate sites, personal site, blog and Facebook page, letting many other people to get your location data in real time. In order to prevent all this from happening you can block LandAirSea Systems SilverCloud Sync GPS tracker and avoid your location and other data from being available to the many people in the blink of an eye.
