Hi Ingrid! Yet another smart shoes, Adidas Social Media Barricade shoes is really a concept (for now) related to the London Olympics and partially inspired by them. There are phone guts inside those shoes serving as their brains and basic two-line LCD screen to output the information somewhere. These shoes could be connected to the internet and receive Tweets you can check on the go. Stripes on Adidas Social Media Barricade shoes can also change their colour. It is done with the help of the special remote control. Considering all these innovations which are planned to be incorporated into these amazing sport shoes we can assume that Rio 2016 games will definitely see these shoes. But if you want to secure yourself from their work, you can use Adidas Social Media Barricade shoes jammer and block all possible wireless frequencies they can use.
