WiFi makes me even more fat, doesn't it?

2019/07/09

Hello Sofia! Yes, the McDonalds restaurant chain has actually introduced about 1200 free WiFi hotspots in its UK restaurants. Wireless internet became real attraction these days and when its free - people are going to those spots. "The customers are downloading more emails than they're eating hamburgers", as McDonalds representatives are saying jokingly. As for your question, I guess they are not trying to make you more fat intentionally. Still, most people are visiting McDonalds regularly and now they will probably spend even more time there because of that free WiFi. And this may become the reason why they get more fat - because of eating more food during their stay at the famous restaurant chain of McDonalds. So if you like to eat and use wireless internet at the same time - go directly to McDonalds and enjoy! But if you care about your weight and want to help others do that - use any of WiFi jammers to stop eating too much and it may become the first step on the road of the healthier life of yours! ;)
